SLAYER TWICE ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Today

Battleship and Coach Cannon, Bow and Arrow The First That Flew 100 Sample Stocks

By Arthur Brisbane

By Arthur Brisbane. Havana, Jan. 16.—The battleship Texas, conveyed by its destroyers—their official job being to keep off submarines and torpedo boats. If it had been real war, the President would have gone in a submarine or flying ship—never in a dangerous floating steel target. The expensive battleship would not have been sent out of its snug harbor and the destroyers "would have been busy dodging destruction from the air. Battleships are magnificently impressive, and as absolute as the child's dummy horse in which King George rides to open Parliament.

Some good news about government flying machines at last. We may eventually realize that the richest nation should develop the only defense really important—fighting airplanes and destructive submarines.

Our government airplanes flew, nonetheless, to Managua. And a real air fighting air unit is to "co-operate" with the battle fleet in the Pacific. Two airplane carriers, able to launch 100 airplanes each, will be part of the Pacific fleet. And the navy says it is determined to "maintain supremacy of the air at sea."

The only fighting sea, henceforth, is to be the air. And to talk of airplanes "co-operating" with a battle fleet, is like talking of high-powered cannon co-operating with bows and arrows. If war came, the fliers would have to protect the battleships.

This news from Washington should sink into the national mind. At Panama, an obsolete 6,000-ton ship was used as a target. A "preliminary bombardment" was ordered; six pursuit planes, dropping little 25-pound bombs, supposed to be of value only in bombing troops on the ground. A serious bombardment with heavier bombs was to follow. But when the light pursuit planes and light bombs had finished there was nothing left to bombard. The big ship was at the bottom. The light bombing was done on the theory that a big warship was being attacked in action. The little bombs were to drive the gun crews of the battleships away from their guns, including their anti-aircraft guns, then the big bombers were to come, and finish the ship.

This enlightening experiment, the most important made by the navy, indicates what 6,000-pound bombs of TNT will do to 60,000-ton battleships.

Staging Falls in Back Bay; Five Injured RANSOM TRAIL IN SMITH MYSTERY

BELIEVE KIDNAPERS ARE SEEKING WEALTH OF MISSING HEIRESS

By BERT FORD.
Northampton, Jan. 16.—The possibility that Frances St. John Smith, missing Smith College freshman, was kidnapped and is being held for ransom or a large reward, was the strongest of four theories entertained by investigators today. While State and private detectives and police widened today their search for the wealthy sixteen-year-old New York girl, they simultaneously narrowed the field of possible reasons which may account for her disappearance last Friday. Little importance was attached here to statements that a girl rooming with Miss Smith had been seen in Boston, and the only other unexplained point in New York and Philadelphia. The most tangible of these was the story told by the vice-president of a New York industrial corporation, who notified the police that he saw a girl who he believed was the missing student riding in a train from New York to Philadelphia yesterday noon. With the girl was a middle-aged woman and the two conversed about Smith College, the younger woman thoroughly conversant with routine of college life here. Although the girl on the train had bobbed hair while Miss Smith wore her hair long when she dropped from sight, the man was positive of the identification. "I consider he mistaken," he said. "The resemblance was too marked; she was highly nervous and from Please Turn to Page 2, Column 1.

PERSONAL TELEPHONE SERVICE

Short Cuts to Effective Service

Metropolitan Boston makes 2,000,000 telephone calls a day. Most of them go right. Relatively few go wrong.

When one does go astray, we want you to get immediate and special attention from those of us best qualified to help.

For assistance in completing calls, ask for the Supervisor at your central office, or dial Operator.

For service failure due to mechanical defect, call Repair Clerk, or dial 611.

Telephone service is not all rendered at the switchboard. Business relations between telephone subscriber and telephone company play an important part.

For all matters of business—having to do with installations, moves, removals, directories, bills, etc.—call Business Office and ask for your Service Representative.

These are short cuts. Take them, and you should get quick action and effective service. However:

If these calls fail of satisfactory results, call the Business Office and ask for the Manager.

He is responsible to you for your service; and his responsibility is not lessened because of these suggestions.

SLAYER TO REPUDIATE TWO CONFESSIONS AND FIGHT HIS CONVICTION

Ionia, Mich., Jan. 17 (I.N.S.)—Adolph Hotelling, gentlemanly church elder and self-confessed murderer of 5-year-old Dorothy Schneider, calmly discussed plans to fight conviction today after arising from sleep in Ionia prison and eating a hearty breakfast with apparent relish, although he twice attempted suicide during the night.

His fallers said he appeared unconcerned, as if he were in the pews of the church, where he periodically last Sunday at communion service. Hotelling was brought here from Flint to escape mob vengeance.

Pending the arrival of his attorneys, Hotelling did not talk at any length or in plain, but he made it plain Governor Fred W. Green, who is expected to fight conviction and will attempt to repudiate his two alleged confessions. Please Turn to Page 11, Column 1.

GOODWIN SAYS FULLER CAN HAVE HIM 'FIRED'

Blandly and handsly, Register of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin explained today to newspaper men just how he can be "fired" legally.

The register asserted that the quickest and most effective way of bringing about his dismissal would be by Governor Fuller introducing a bill to amend the law.

Goodwin made his explanation in answers to a query put to him by the Register.

While the Governor has no authority to remove the motor vehicle register, the public works commissioner has such authority.

And Governor Fuller has authority to remove the public works commissioner if the chief executive so wishes.

WAR MOTHER IN $10,000 FIGHT

Faded letters written just before he was killed in action at Verdun dramatically voiced the claim of a Gold Star mother in Federal Court today as she sought to establish her right to the $10,000 war risk insurance of her son.

The milvies were evidence in behalf of Mrs. Annie M. Carley of Newton in her suit against the government as beneficiary of her son Edward E. Carley, 5th Regiment, Massachusetts National Guard.

Attorneys representing the government contend the youth never made application for the insurance. The case is on trial before Judge James M. Morton and a jury. Captain Edward Edmonds, Jr., commanding the company in which Carley served overseas, testifying in behalf of the mother, declared he ac-

Mrs. Carley, with tears in her eyes, identified the writing in the letters as that of her son and wept on the stand as they were read to the jury. In one letter the youth informed her he had taken out the insurance.

Apparent discrepancies in the style of writing observed by the court in several of the letters were explained by the mother with the remark that her son was ambitious and wrote some with the left hand and others with the right.

The case is expected to go to the jury tomorrow.

Pan-American Congress for Open Covenants

Havana, Jan. 17.—The policy of "open covenants" openly arrived at won out in the Pan-American Congress today.

The decision aroused some surprise because previously most of the work done in these conferences had been done behind closed doors, and publicity had been given only after the conferences had been concluded.

The motion for open sessions was made by the Argentine ambassador to the United States, Honario Pucriden. Charles E. Hughes, head of the American delegation, seconded the motion. It was adopted by a vote of 15 to 8, those opposing taking the position that there might be some matters that couldn't be discussed publicly.

NONE REALIZED CEREMONY WAS NOT BONA-FIDE

New York, Jan. 17 (A.P.)—Patrick Kearney, playwright, and Miss Elizabeth Russell, actress, were revealed today to have gone through a mock marriage ceremony rather than a bona-fide one.

The couple yesterday obtained a license when Miss Russell produced an affidavit signed by her mother and they later were married by a civil ceremony.

The mock marriage took place at Kearney's apartment last Thursday and was described by Earl Simmons, who is a playwright, as carried out despite the lack of a license in order not to disappoint Greta H. Kane, Eugene O'Neill, Floyd Dell, Horace Liveright and other guests.

"It was," said Simmons, "inviting Otto Kahn to a wedding and then having no wedding. We simply had to stage a wedding, so we got Lewis Bourne, an author who formerly was a rabbi, to agree to go through the form of a ceremony. None of the other guests were aware of the fact that the wedding was strictly bona fide. Horace Liveright acted as best man. Floyd Dell read a lot of poetry or something and a fine time was had by all."

Mr. Kearney, who is thirty-four years old, dramatized Theodore Dreiser's "American Tragedy" as his third marriage. Miss Russell also had been married previously. The couple met at a party on New Year's Day.

It would authorize the War Department to increase the daily allowance for army meals from 35 cents to 41 cents per man, the amount allotted the navy.

'DRY' EXAMS TO STAND, SAYS BOARD

Washington, Jan. 17 (A.P.)—Civil service examinations for prohibition enforcement workers cannot be framed with a view to negotiating the tenure of incumbents in the service, the Civil Service Commission said today in upholding the situation which resulted in "wholesale firing" by employees of the dry organization.

Declaring the examinations under the law must be competitive, the commission said such examinations would not be set aside unless there was fraud or irregularity connected with them, and no such charge had been made against the prohibition examination.

The Civil Service Commission will, following its usual procedure, re-examine the examinations in any prohibition district for which the present examinations fail to employ sufficient eligibles. Any person who meets the entrance requirements may compete, even if such person failed in the first examination. The commission is taking steps to determine the prohibition districts.

Replying to the charge of Representative Fish of New York that the commission had violated the law giving preference to war veterans, the commission said that those entitled to preference under the law would have five points added to their earned rating in the whole examination, or ten points in the case of disabled veterans, in accordance with the usual practice.

DIVER EADIE IN OWN STORY OF $4 RESCUE

The gray and grizzled veteran from under the sea, "Tom" Eadie, navy diver, told today his own dramatic story of how he rescued from death his fellow but far more reckless and youthful diver, Fred "Whitely" Michaels, as Michaels lay on the wreck of the S-1, trapped in his time.

Eadie mentioned no word like "rescue" as he told his story, but he went on, that he said was that "Mike" got his lines tangled and I went down, and got him and started him up."

Eadie's dramatic story was told to the 84 inquiry board at the Boston Navy Yard just before the board adjourned to visit again the tragedy scene off Provincetown.

The diver, one of five called today to testify, said he has been grooping on the bottom of the sea, in various climates, for 18 or 19 years.

When he was notified on December 17 of the S-1 disaster he said he hurried to Provincetown from Newport, R. I., arriving just before 10 o'clock. Twelve hours after his arrival he went into the water to ascertain if the something caught by a dragline and hook was the sunken submarine.

"I descended on that line," he testified, "and I hit between the portholes. I telephoned and said, 'It's the submarine.'"

"When I landed, I heard faint signals. I walked toward the sounds, that seemed to come from the torpedo room. When I got above the torpedo, I tapped on the hatch cover and immediately received an answer."

URGE MOTHERS TO TRUST GIRLS

"Mothers of today have lost three years of their lives in trying to exert their influence over daughters in matters of lashed hair, lipstick and discarded corsets," said Mrs. Herbert Conway, worst traveler and current events lecturer, addressing more than 400 women of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs at Hotel Bellevue today.

"The art of living," she said, "may be boiled down to three points. Stand firm for your principles. Be flexible in things that do not count, such as complaining of your daughters. Make the best of things that cannot be changed."

"The antagonism between old and young on matters of dress and customs is sickening. The girls are good as a rule and can be trusted. You mothers will find that the best way to treat them."

"A self-respecting mother will in all probability bring up a self-respecting daughter if she doesn't exert disciplinary measures."

"At any rate, do not better your daughters on the evils of all these things and then under the roof you think you are doing by concluding just as you tell them not to."

Los Angeles, Jan. 17 (A.P.)—These plans for a wedding were denied by some mysterious, unnamed circumstance, Gerald Koch, 28, and Dorothy Youngman, 23, wiped out their lives together in a suicide pact today in the little town of Twinsburg, a suburb of Los Angeles. The young woman was a school teacher in Covina, Cal.

Dr. Joseph Lelyveld, chief of the Boston Foot Clinics, warns girls shapely ankles are passing. Miss Jetta of Scollay Square Olympia Theatre shows a "book exercise" to keep arches right.

Dr. Lelyveld says this test, writing with the toes, will prove whether the arches are properly developed. Miss Jetta warns girls that unless they take care of their feet, exercising them regularly, the arches will fall, corns will develop and ankles will lose their natural firmness. Stockings should be rolled to be pulled on, he says.

STORM THREAT BAR CHAMPAGNE VANISHES IN CHURCH

Departing as suddenly as it came, the storm drove, which precipitated less than half an inch of snow last night and raised the temperature 20 degrees, was today well on its way out to sea.

Following close on its heels came a slight slump in the mercury, accompanied by sunny skies and moderate westerly winds. With January more than half through, the chances grow less for a normal season.

The average depth of snow for this month is at 31.8 inches, but less than an inch has fallen this winter.

Washington, Jan. 17 (A.P.)—An official order against the use of champagne or other sparkling wines for sacramental purposes or religious rites was issued today by Prohibition Commissioner Dwyer.

While it has been the general policy of the Prohibition Bureau to prohibit the use of champagne in religious services, Commissioner Dwyer said it became necessary to issue an official edict against its use because of recent and widespread criticism for such use of champagne.

Miss Beatrice Lee of Scollay Square Olympia Theatre here shows an approved exercise—walking on the outer edges of the feet with the toes slightly in, to develop muscles.

NICARAGUA IN BATTLE OVER ELECTION LAW

Managua, Jan. 17 (U.P.)—While advance guards of the Marines are establishing contact with General Sandino's rebels and some skirmishes are reported in which the rebels have suffered small losses, the political situation in Nicaragua is becoming more confused.

There are now prospects of a bitter political fight in the Nicaraguan Assembly over the passage of the electoral law, which would give the American the full control of supervision of the next national elections.

The passage of the law was one of the conditions of the Somoza peace terms, but opposition has risen and there is now some doubt as to whether it can be adopted in its present form.

Bunch of Saps if They Don't Elect Hoover—Edison

Fort Myers, Fla., Jan. 17 (A.P.)—Thomas A. Edison talked war and politics when newspaper men invaded his Winter home, and flung varicanted questions at the aged inventor.

Following his custom of replying with a stubby pencil, Edison on one occasion wrote that "the American people will be a bunch of saps if they don't elect Herbert Hoover President," and on another, "No one can say when war will come to us."

He seemed principally concerned about having his rubber experiments here understood.

"Why don't you newspaper fellows get my rubber work right?" he demanded. "I'm not trying to compete with foreign countries."

My experiments are aimed at finding a plant profile enough to produce a rubber crop in eighteen months in time of war."

Asked how soon he expected to find the rubber plant he sought, he replied: "Eight or eight years, if I am lucky."

BOSTON SENDS ELECTRICITY TO FLORIDA

Boston and Florida are today connected in an electric sense by high tension wires carrying electricity from the Charles Leavitt Edgar Station of the Boston Edison Company to the Southern State by way of Chicago.

Between nine and eleven o'clock this morning, the switches were thrown in at the Edgar Station, putting power upon the company's line, and high tension line connecting with the New England Power Company's system at the Milbury switching station.

THROUGH TO CHICAGO

From there the connection was made with the New England Power Company's plant at Davis Bridge, Vermont, thence to Rotterdam, N. Y., and from there on high-tension lines through New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

At the same time connections were made over high tension lines from Chicago through many of the Southern States, so that lines connected through Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

On November 19, 1926, the first long-distance high tension connection ever made was carried through between Boston and Chicago. The results of the undertaking were so satisfactory as a high tension long distance test that the officers of the various companies interested decided to undertake the experiment again, and at the same time add several thousand more miles between Chicago and Florida to the net work.

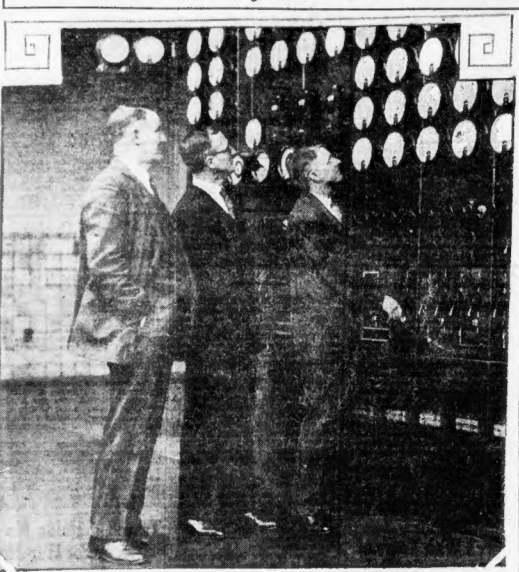

Question at the Edgar station with W. T. Gould, chief operator, assured it. E. Dillon, superintendent generating department and A. H. Sweetnam, superintendent electrical engineering department, the hookup was fulfilling expectations. However, it will be some time before information can be obtained as to what stations participated.

MEANS BIG HOORAY

It is the dream of electrical engineers that when the construction of transmission lines has been standardized so that there is an uniformity of current carrying capacity, Florida may draw upon Chicago or even upon Boston for electric power just as today distant points in New England draw upon the Edgar Station of the Boston Edison Company at Weymouth for a part of their power supply.

URGES PRESS BE DENIED SHORT RADIO WAVES

Washington, Jan. 17 (U.P.)—The Radio Corporation of America today proposed to the Federal Radio Commission that no newspaper or press association be granted license for use of the short wave channels.

The proposal was dropped by Colonel Stanton Davis, attorney for the R. C. A., among the several hundred representatives of corporations seeking allocations from the Federal commission which opened its hearing today.

American press associations and newspapers were before the commission to demand that the short wave lengths be opened up for news distribution.

Joseph Pearson of Chicago, representing the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, declared that the crying need of the American press is for adequate radio communication facilities, as an adjunct to present wire facilities.

"The association is asking the commission to make permanent the radio services which the newspaper and press associations have developed on an experimental basis," he said.

KILLS WIFE AND SELF, WOUNDS STEPCHILDREN

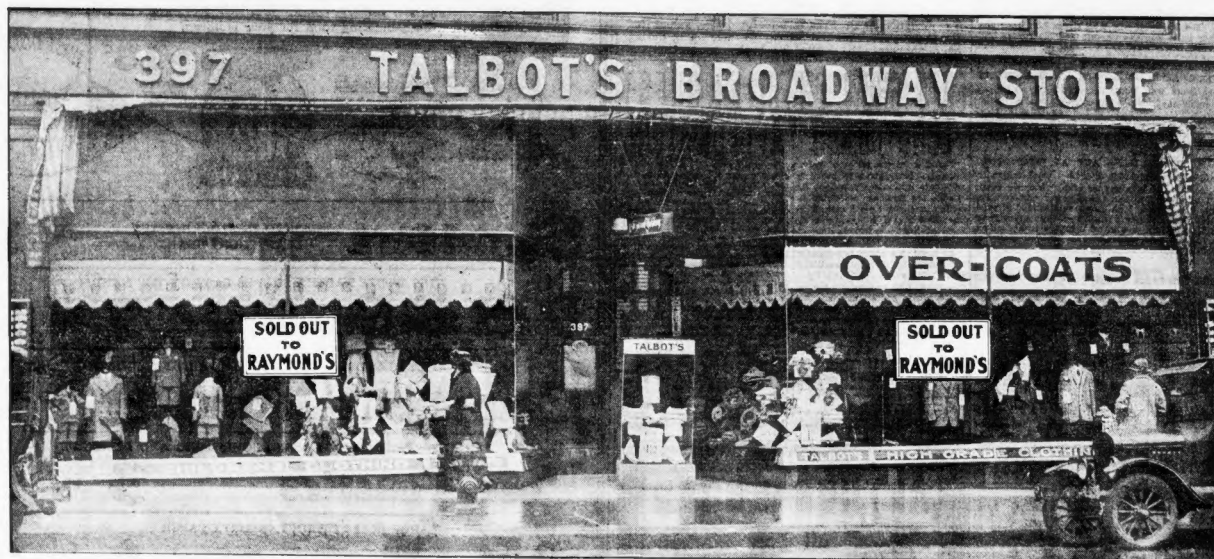

New York, Jan. 17 (A.P.)—Salvo, three days of violence, Long Island today shot and killed his wife, wounded his three stepchildren, two perhaps fatally, and then killed himself with a double-barreled shotgun. Two of the children, Antoinette, 13 years old, and Salvatore, 8, were in critical condition at the Metropolitan Hospital. The third, Edna, 12, was wounded in the left arm. Salvo's daughter by a former marriage said her father had been married twice previously and had complained many times of the burden of supporting the three children of his third wife.

BREADLESS TOWN IS SAVED BY AVIATOR

Oregon, Idaho, Jan. 17 (A.P.)—Oregon was busy to-morrow to-day after an aviator circled the community and dropped 40 pounds of yeast, thereby saving it from being a breadless city. Cut off from rail and highway communication since Thursday because of floods, Oregon, which has 1,000 inhabitants, suddenly found itself with no yeast and only one bag of yeast. A Spokane aviator arrived over the town and delivered the necessary yeast, and the people began to bake bread.

HIKING MOTHER OF 5 OFF AGAIN AFTER LEG INJURY

Concord, N. H., Jan. 17 (A.P.)—Mrs. Mary Anderson of Manchester, thirty-five, mother of five children, on a 300-mile snowshoe hike to Montreal, who was delayed here yesterday by an injured leg, left today with her companion, Albert Caron, fortitude, to continue her trip. They plan to stop at Franklin, nineteen miles north of here, this evening. Mrs. Anderson said she drove only a few hundred miles in an injured leg, but she said she was "glad to see the situation."

BALTIMORE WEDDING OF GREAT INTEREST TO BOSTON SOCIETY FOLK, SAYS BETTY ALI EN

John Edward Johnston Takes Mathilde Manly as Bride January 25

CERTAIN BOSTONIANS OF PLACE AND DISTINCTION, WHOSE family trees flutter leaves inlaid with Baltimore names, are more than ordinarily interested in a forthcoming marriage, to the Maryland stronghold of blood and ancient elegance. Cards have come to these Bostonians for the marriage celebration on January 25 of Miss Mathilde Manly, daughter of Mrs. William Maurice Manly, and John Edward Johnston, in the Protestant Episcopal Church of Grace and St. Peter, after which the wedding guests go on to Mrs. Manly's town residence for the reception.

THAT SO HANDSOME A GIRL AS MISS MANLY WILL MAKE a beautiful bride goes without saying. A most engaging specimen of femininity is she, with an unlimited wardrobe of most delectable and becoming frocks and hats chosen with an eye to enhance her elan and personality. In bridal robes she will be a most satisfying eye picture. Family one of the levellest that ever trod the churchly aisle in Baltimore or elsewhere. In Boston she flashed briefly, but effectively, when she came to town with her mother and uncle to attend the wedding of her brother, Keyser Manly, and Miss Georgiana Hawkins in the beautiful Lady Chapel of Emmanuel, a year or so ago.

THOSE WHO FIND FAMILY LORE AND THE RELATIONSHIP of this one to that one an absorbing tea time topic will recall that the handsome and stately Mrs. William Maurice Manly was born Keyser and that since Miss Mathilde Manly rejoices in many dotting relatives strongly entrenched in the innermost circles of Baltimore society, her first winter was brilliant in the extreme. She made her bow at one of the "Mondays" and long before and for long afterward there was no cessation in affairs designed to do her honor and illumine the debutante winter.

A LITTLE NEWSITEM IN THE FAMILY OF CAPTAIN AND MRS. ARCHIBALD ROOSEVELT of New York brought to Mrs. Thomas St. John Lockwood of Boston additional hours in the grandparent home. There already being several sprigs in the Roosevelt nursery, the bride arrived had been duly warned before the coming of this latest small daughter. Mrs. Roosevelt was Miss Grace Lockwood and, when official and other duties take the Captain and his spouse here and there about the world it very often happens that the nursery folk stay in Boston or at the North Shore with their grandmothers.

GOYMAN'S MANNER OF BRIGHTENING OTHERWISE UNFILLED Sunday afternoon hours with occasions sufficiently diverting, though nevertheless within the Seventh-Day atmosphere, is finding favor here. Musicales, with the cheer of tea as afternoon, serve well for the purpose, an entertainment befitting the Sabbath, especially when done as Mrs. James Reed intends to do a musicale next Sunday at the Club Marco.

FOR THE CLUB MARCO MUSICALES ARE AN INNOVATION. The music to which that reverend sounds most frequently is of syncretized rhythm, since it is a supper club. Chamber music and the vocalization fitting to a musicale are a new departure. For a recent dinner at the Club Marco, Mrs. Reed, entertaining friends, was one of the smartest frocks of her wardrobe—a satin crepe ranging like the colors in the spectrum through pale mauve to deep lilac with a hint of a scarf at one side. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith of Brimmer street were of the Reed dinner group. Mrs. Smith in a beaded frock of lavender.

WHILE, OF COURSE, THE PALM BEACH SEASON IS NOT YET swinging into its most accelerated social tempo, the "winter" of the resort is not at rest. The social life of the season is not at rest. The social life of the season is not at rest.

FILM SHOW ON FULLER GUEST LONG ISLAND AT DEDICATION

The first of the series of entertainments being given to honor and State institutions this week by the Boston Evening American, in conjunction with Lowell's State Fair, was shown in the assembly room at the Boston Sanatorium at Mattapan.

As usual, the entire tea table of the picture, which was "Society and Sun," being shown at Lowell's State Fair, was enjoyed by the guests, nurses and attendants.

At three intervals during the performance of the most popular songs were thrown upon the screen and the entire audience joined in the singing.

The next showing is scheduled for today at 2:30 p. m. at the Long Island House for Asylum Patients, which will be the closing of the series.

Many good food items will also be served at the dinner given at the Boston American Club on Jan. 18.

BROOKSIDE MILK

Rich!

BROOKSIDE MILK has an extremely high percentage of cream or butter fat. The legal requirements of butter fat content is 3.35%. BROOKSIDE MILK is approximately 20% above the legal standard in this respect, averaging something over 4%. Its flavor is due to this large cream content as well as its extreme freshness and low bacteria count. It is rich, fresh and clean—a body-building food for your children.

HAPPY FAMILY OF CHANDLER'S HAIL OFFICERS

Gathered as a happy family around the festive board at the Copple Plaza Hotel, 1,000 members of Chandler & Co. Mutual Benefit Association cheered their newly elected officers to the echo as results of an all-day ballot at the Tremont street store were announced.

The dinner was held in the Sheraton room. Wesley P. Dicker was chosen president of the association for another term, his popularity attested to by the burst of cheers that followed the announcement.

V. Milliken was elected vice-president. Percy Youlton was made secretary and Helen McElroy was named treasurer.

Successful contestants for the board of directors were announced as Miss Helen Stevens, Miss Mollie Pavey, Patrick Haddon, George Reed, Henry Deswell, Allan Ryan, Warren Schaffer, L. D. Harris and Miss Helen McElroy.

Harry Bacon, vice-president of the firm, was guest of the evening, representing Charles P. Bacon, his brother, president of the firm. He received a purse of gold from the members and a life gift was sent to President Bacon.

As guests of honor, two veterans in the employ of the firm were given seats at the head table with firm executives and heads of the association. They were Miss Ruth Avery (to a record of 41 years' service) and Charles Davis, employed by Chandler & Co. for 43 years.

RADIO CALL TO ARMS PRONOUNCED A SUCCESS

Hartford, Ct., Jan. 17 (U.S.S.)—The test mobilization for radio of 2,000 soldiers of the 2nd National Guard Division in Connecticut, Maine, Vermont and Rhode Island today was pronounced a success by Major-General Storrs B. Payne, division commander.

The call to arms was sent twice over the Travlers' Broadcasting station at Hartford. The American Radio Relay League assisted in the test.

MAYOR DUSTS HAYNES FROM REVERE BOARD

Notice of the removal of Willard H. Haynes from the city licensing commission was served by Mayor John E. Walsh upon the Revere City Council at a lively meeting that lasted until early today.

Declaring he intended to reorganize the board, Mayor Walsh sent the council a communication charging that the commission was not giving taxpayers adequate representation and notifying them that Haynes' services had been terminated.

Harry Gray and Bernard W. Berwick are the remaining members of the commission appointed for one-year terms at $100 a year for the granting of licenses to beach and city enterprises.

A good deal of public opposition to the petition of the "Garage Garage" railroad to substitute two buses for the present motorbuses in the train service developed at the meeting.

John Malcolm Mansley, who attempted to speak in favor of the petition, the hearing after the council, by vote of six to one, favored his absence from the hall. The vote followed a verbal tiff between Mansley and Councilman James Robinson during which the councilman declared Mansley didn't know what he was talking about and the latter replied that Robinson "didn't know anything."

U. S. F. Kyles, the railroad's general manager, applied for the permit. Opposition was based mainly upon the contention two buses would not provide enough room for the road's interstate customers and bus service would mean about thirty-six men out of employment. The petition was finally referred to the committee on rules and permits.

NINE ENTOMBED MINERS SAVED AFTER 12 HOURS

Hartford, Pa., Jan. 17 (A.P.)—Rescued by more than twelve hours by a fall of coal in a level 700 feet from the surface, nine miners were rescued today from their prison and brought out of the mine. The mine is located at Gravelly, near here, and is owned by the Lehigh Valley Coal Company.

British Admiral Pins Geneva Navy Arms Failure on U. S.

London, Jan. 17 (A.P.)—Rear Admiral E. A. Taylor, retired, who recently publicly criticized the American attitude of the Treaty Conference, again attacked the United States today before the 1917 Club, a conservative political organization.

"America would neither say what she wanted in number of ships, nor why she wanted them," he said. "She would not agree to our proposed reduction in the size of ships. On the contrary, she wished in every case to increase their size. The failure of the conference was due entirely to the uncomprehending attitude of America."

Football Only Sport to Pay at Harvard

More than a million dollars was paid to watch Harvard athletic teams in action for the year ending June, 1927, but according to the report of Charles F. Adams, treasurer of the university, football was the only branch of athletics to show a profit.

The other sports were sold at a loss. The basketball team, for example, lost $10,000, and the football team, which was the only one to show a profit, lost $5,000.

The Harvard Athletic Association, which is the governing body of the university's sports, is now considering the possibility of charging more for the other sports.

The association is also considering the possibility of charging more for the football team, which was the only one to show a profit.
